TRANSFERRED TO AN UPTOWN DISTRICT-NO CHARGE OF DRUNKENNESS MADE.

liceman Hahn sat patiently in Superintendent ray's outer office at headquarters for two hours terday morning, while Mr. Murray was looking up charges that had been made just after the shootof "Jack" Hussey. It was ascertained that the mly charge against Hahn was one of "conduct unbeg an officer" in shooting Hussey, and that Hahn had not been accused of being intoxicated, or of being at from duty without leave on the night of the shooting. In fact, Mr. Murray said later, the records of the department showed that Hahn was off duty because he had his regular night off. Mr. Murfay made a report on Habn's case to the Police Board at a special meeting in the afternoon, stating that Hahn had been acquitted and recommending that he be re-

These are almost entirely suits by importers against collectors of the port to recover the amount of duties paid. A calendar was made up and has been printed of over 2,000 cases of this character. FRIGHTENED BY A WILD MAN OF THE WOODS. For several days a wild man has been frightening the women and children and exciting the men of Mountain View, N. J., by his strange actions and uncouth appearance. Mountain View is a small settlement in Passaic County, about five miles west of Paterson. The man is described as about thirty years old, weighing some 150 pounds, medium height, without shoes, coat or hat. He pounds, medium height, without shoes, coat or hat. He appears to be a German. All he would say, when approached, was: "I want grass."

Yesterday Station Agent Dean, of the Lackawanna road, telegraphed to Paterson for policemen, as some of the men at Mountain View had caught the supposed lunatic. The Paterson police had no jurisdiction out there, but Sheriff McKee sent word to the Mountain View men to bring the wild man down on the next train and he would have him taken care of. While awaiting the train his captors shut the funation in a flagman's shanty, but he escaped and he was last seen making for the lonely wilds of the Preakmes Mountains, to the north of the village. The country people are greatly excited, and the women are afraid to go out after dark.

ROOSEVELT BOUND FOR DAKOTA. HIS VIEWS ON THE NEW-YORK SITUATION.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TR.BUNE. 1

GEORGE THE UNKNOWN FACTOR-CLEVELAND'S STRENGTH IN THE STATE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt, bound for Dakota, said to a reporter, whon asked of the New York Republican nominations and the party outlook: "The talk that the nominations were machine nominations is all nonsense. In New-York we suffer from too little organization, not too much. Our ticket represented the feeling of the individual members of the convention and was not the product of planning and scheming. The George vote is the unknown quantity. He is going to lose at both ends this year—lose from the Socialists and from the Catholics. Whether he will lose enough to reduce greatly his strength is difficult to prophesy. When Kelly bolted against the regular Democratic ticket he got over 70,000 in the State. If George can do that we can win. Three-fourths of the George vote is drawn from the Democrats—perhaps four-fifths. As usual, we shall suffer from the political Prohibition cranks, gentlemen of doubtful political honesty. We have a strong ticket and a strong platform, and shall get a certain number of Mugwamp votes, but not many, because they are booming strong Democratic partisans, in so for as they think Cleveland identified with the Democratic party. In reality they are the very antipodes of their present associates. I personally think they labor under a misconception as to the effect of their action, but the bulk of their leaders are undoubtedly now so bigoted in their adherence to Cleveland as to be unwilling to do anything that can be construed into censure of his Ad-

"What is Cleveland's strength in New-York "He has the leaders of the Mugwumps with him now as at the last election. He has undoubtedly lost among the labor and soldier votes, but to offset that the offices will be managed with most unscrupulous efficiency in his favor."

"What does the Hill talk amount to !" "The talk of Hill as a Presidential candidate is all nonsense. He and Cieveland will go in together, each for re-election. They will have to not that they love each other, but each fears the othe. Colonel Grant will, I think, make a good run, and his enemies can't do anything by the attempt to hurt him with the colores peo-thing by the attempt to nurthim with the colorest people.

"The Republican party in New-York is in a harmonious condition, is it not?"

"Excellent, as is shown by the action of ex-Mayor Low, of Brooklyn, in taking part this year, and by the fact that he will take an active part next year."

"You say you have just left a leading Massachusetts Republican; how do you regard the situation there?"

"Massachusetts is the only State where the President has gone anywhere near fulfilling his pledice of Civil Service reform, and consequently that is the only State where his party has thrown him over. The last ticker was noninated frankly against Magwunps and Civil Service reformers, and the Mugwunps are in a quandary, knowing not where to turn. It is a first-class publishment. A great many supported Lovering against Lodge for sheer spife, and now they are absolutely illogical is refusing to support him for Governor. This action shows how entirely without principle they were in not supporting Lodge as heartily as possible."

DR. ARROTT AND PLYMOUTH CHURCH. HIS HEALTH WOULD NOT PERMIT HIM TO ACCEPT

A PERMANENT CALL. Horatio King said yesterday that he knew no more the arrangements with the Rev. Lyman Abbott for filling the pulpit of Plymouth Church than had already been published. Dr. Abbott was not able to accept a permanent call, even if he should receive one, on account of his health. Mr. King thought that if Dr. Abbott would accept a call, many of the members of the church would be in favor of asking him to do so, but as the matter now stood he would simply pleach twice each Sunday, giving way from time to time to such other preachers as it might be thought proper to engage, till a permanent pastor should be secured.

This is not likely to happen till after the pewrenting on the first Tuesday in January, but there is no limit placed to the time in the arrangement with MENT. THE MATERIALS ARE ALL WOOL, AND Dr. Abbott. Mr. King said that it would be difficult to find a man who would be satisfactory to the church to find a man who would be satisfactory to the church in the maintenance of such broad and advanced views as those of Mr. Beecher. He thought that Dr. Parket filled the requirements better than any one cise, but Dr. Parker would probably he as unwilling to leave his church in London as Mr. Beecher would have been to leave Plymouth Church.

The Executive Committee of the Beecher Status Fund Association has given notice that a meeting of those interested in the Fund will be field to morrow evening in Art Association Hall, No. 172 Montagues t. The committee's choice of J. Q. A. Ward for sculptor will probably come up for approval.

TWO POLICE COMMISSIONERS THINK THAT THE GEORGE PARTY HAVE BEEN WRONGED ENOUGH. The resolution offered by Commissioner Porter on Friday calling on John J. O'limen to explain why he gave a certificate to the "George" inspectors was brought up again yesterday at a special meeting of the Board of Police. Commissioners French and McClave voted against the resolution and presented the

of their legal rights; that the act of Legislatute pro-viding for a fifth inspector was designed to apply to Trust Company. that organization, and they have just cause to com-that organization, and they have just cause to complain of injustice. The board has already declared that the action of the Chief of the Bureau of Elections was unwarranted and have reversed that action, but the action was only what we believe the Labor caudidates for inspectors would have been entitled to had this board done its duty.

We are on the eve of an election and the whole subject is before the courts for determination. To try and punish the officer whom the injured party naturally regard as seeking to give them their rights would add to their sense of wrong and just resentment.
We do not think this is the proper time to consider the question of justification of the Chief of the Bureau of elections, and we thereore vote to postpone the resolution until after the eighth day of November.

TRUSTING YET TO A CUTTER.

NOT ENOUGH BEAM TO THE THISTLE.

WHAT A BRITISH YACHT BUILDER HERE HAS PROMISED TO DO FOR THE NOVA SCOTIANS. a dispatch from Halifax stating that Nova Scotia yachts men intended to challenge for the America's cup. Yesterday there was published another dispatch from Halifax, stating that John Harvey, of New-York, had offered to design and superintent the construction of a cutter for the ambitious Nova Scotians, which, he believed, would best the present Volunteer or any improved

John Harvey is a British yacht designer who came ere several years ago to introduce the cutter, after having designed some famous yachts on the other side, the Miranda and the big cutter Julianar, which was launched in '74 and was the first of the extremely narrow type of cutters which have success of the Thistle and the change in the rules of the Yacht Racing Association caused a reaction in favor of more beam. Though old and grizzled, John Harvey is still an eut-and-out cutter man, and has not become a convert to the beamy doctrine as applied to outters, and in his genial fashion still upholds the narrow type

HOW HE CAME TO HAVE A CUITER DESIGN ON HAND. He was seen yesterday afternoon by a reporter at his house, No. 241 West Fourteenth-st, In explanation

I had made the drawings and completed the design of a large cutter for Mr. Bentall, of Malden, Essex, Earland, but his wife dying and he being minety-two years old, he abandoned the idea of having the yacht built, so the design was left on my hands, when I heard that Nova Scotia intended to challenge for the cup, I wrote a note to some yachtamen there, offering to sell them the design of the cutter which I had worked out, provided they would also give me the job of superintending her construction, for I had no desire to risk my reputation by possible mistakes in the construction of the boat. I have heard nothing from them since and I am surprised that anything has been published about the letter, since it was marked "private."

"What are the dimensions of your proposed cutter!"

"What are the dimensions of your proposed cutter !" asked the reporter." Her length on the water line is 90 feet, extreme breadth, 16 feet, and draft, 14 feet six inches." This would make her 3 feet 2 inches longer than the Thistle, 4 feet less beam and fully 6 inches more draft. Thus she would belong to the long, deep and proportionately marrow type of cutter.

"And you believe that such a cutter would beat the Volunteer or an improved Volunteer I" asked the re-

"I think so," replied Mr. Harvey, with an expression of confidence, "but I would not be foolish enough guarantee that. I fell out with guarantees of that sort loug ago."

"Then you don't believe that the proportions shown in the Thistle are the best possible!"

FOINTING OUT MR. MR. WATSON'S "FATAL BLUNDER." "No. It is possible to build an extremely fast heat with such dimensions, but not the fastest. Had the Thistle been given more lateral resistance; had she been less cut away in the fore-foot, she would have made a ise race of it with the Volunteer. But in the shape of her fore-foot, Mr. Watson made a fatal blunder, which surprised me. After seeing her out of water I advised all my friends to hedge on all bets they had made in her favor. It was a foregone conclusion that she would not climb to windward like the Volunteer." "Of course Mr. Watson will remedy this defect in the next challenger. Do you then think that she will be able to capture the cap !" "Not if she has the same proportionate dimensions as the Thistle. You must remember that the new Voltatiest will be a good deal faster than the present one. I should say at least ten minutes faster over a forty-mile course."

"The success of the Phistic over the narrower enters in England has not satisfied you that, because of their less beam, they are inferior in speed ?"

"By no means. It has only convinced me that there are faults in the desirn of the frex and Genesta, which I think could be remedies without any increase of beam. If this cutter had been built for Mr. Bentall, it was intended to race her against the Phistic when she returned, the result would. I think have shown that increase of beam in a cutter isn't the improvement that has been imagined."

Before Mr. Watsen left for home on the City of Rome he said, is conversation with a friend, that in his desire to secure light-wind foeting he had cut down lateral resistance below the amount requisite for hanging on to windward. He is not likely, therefore, in his new cutter, to repeat the error. "Not if she has the same proportionate dimensions as

"No; I will not, replied he. "If you will wait until November I you may be able to ascritain something, but netil that time not a thing can be said." Mr. Murray simply declared that, so far as he knew, the American Evchange Company was still the arbiter of its own destiny. Whatever negotiations are going on, it was clear that those more or less directly interested in them were determined to avail themselves of the picrogative of silence until affairs should be definitely settled.

The Mayor wanted to know if Mr. Schampain was aware that he was making charges against reputable men. Mr. Scham-

"Why do you select one case!" asked the Mayor. "You know that the law as to personal taxes has never been enferced. You might as well any the law against allowing trucks to stand in West-st. Is not enferced. The practical point is, can any one enforce the law better than these commissioners! They are admin istering the tax laws as they were administered by
